

FREE COUPONS

by Don Bradt #150

Quite a few years ago I came across a bundle of 200 $1.00 coupons with fairly low serial numbers. The bundle was 75th Anniversary coupons printed by BA Banknote. There was one replacement note in the bundle and I thought I was going to get a really, really low serial number replacement. The replacement coupon, however, turned out to be an S15 note (very used) printed by Canadian Banknote. The bundle was wrapped up in the original plastic, so someone working at BA Banknote has my replacement.

Anyway, I'm offering a free coupon that matches your membership number if it's between 607 and 800. These coupons, of course, begin with '75', so it won't be an exact match.

I also found a bundle (500) of 10¢ coupons and two consecutive bundles (1000) of 5¢ coupons that have a minor flaw on them. The 10¢ S28 coupon has a white dot at W1 using Everett's overlay system. The 5¢ S28 coupon has a white circle the size of a planchet at O12 (just above the white AUX on the bottom border).

Send me a Stamped Self-Addressed Envelope (SASE) and if your membership matches the range, I'll send you the coupon. For the other two with defects I'll send you up to five of each.

MISMATCHED SERIAL NUMBERS

by Jerome Fourre #120

Quite a few members have sent in CTC S27 & S28 twenty five cent notes that have mismatched serial numbers.

The CTC S27-D04 - 9907001606 range is the harder one to find with less than 200 known. The others are as follows:

	Lowest found	Highest found	Possible quantity
CTC S27-D04	9907001606	9907001770	200
CTC S27-D06	9913481145	9913481731	1000
CTC S28-D06	9917173121	9917173994	1000
CTC S28-D06	9917223121	9917223154	500*
CTC S28-D06	9917523000	9917523496	500
CTC S28-D06	9917673076	9917673986	1000

* All of these notes were only seen for auction on eBay
