

COLLECTING CANADIAN TIRE - PINS AND PINBACKS

by John Merrick #905

INTRODUCTION

You will find that collecting Canadian Tire pins and pinbacks are both fascinating and very diverse. The terms for these items are described as follows; Pins or lapel pins are usually metal with a post pin in the back similar to a tack with a military or butterfly clasp. A pinback is often called a button but it is not to be confused with what you would use to close a shirt. Pinbacks are generally much larger than a lapel pin ranging in size up to three inches in diameter, are typically round or rectangular and have a safety pin type fastener on the back.

CTC TRIANGLE PINS

One of the most collected style of pin is the CTC triangle which varies in size, colour and design. They are found with or without the Canadian Tire name and include both the green and blue ribbon versions of the typical Christmas logo.

TRUCK / MAP PINS

Canadian Tire truck pins are wide ranging in size and colour including yellow and green trucks. There is also a map series that lists a particular province and highlights it on the map. Shown below is the full map "Pacific to Atlantic" pin.

PINBACKS

Canadian Tire and individual stores having been issuing pinbacks for many years and the earliest known examples date

ANNIVERSARY PINBACKS

Pinbacks have marked CTC anniversaries as well as individual store anniversaries. A unique pinback was issued in 1972 to commemorate Canadian Tires 50th year. It was lenticular or

STORAGE

Pins and pinbacks should be stored in some form of device to protect them from scratching, staining or discolouring. Mounting your pin collection to a backer board makes an attractive display.

Be sure to avoid displaying your collection in direct sunlight to prevent fading of colours and ensure they are stored away from moisture.
